

Abstract

Medicine chest

A medicine chest comprises a chest body with a plurality of storage compartments. For closing the medicine chest, a displaceable shutting means (24) is provided. This requires substantially less space than doors, for example.

(Fig. 1)